Special Needs Freedom Presentation

Legal Planning Power

During this Special Needs Freedom Presentation you will discover how to take charge of your child's future and build a fortress of protection that will last a lifetime. You'll learn why preparing for a child's future is so important (and how to make it as easy as possible to do so), especially for a child with special needs.

As the parent of a child with special needs, you have the responsibility to make sure that your child's future is well planned for down to the very last detail, even after you are no longer here. No one will be able to replace the love and care you provide your children, but there are ways to ensure that your children are cared for by the people you want, the way you want.

Personally, I understand all too well the responsibility of caring for a special needs family member and how beneficial any relief can be, so I've made it my mission to educate families about the imminent need for legal family planning using a holistic approach.

This presentation will help take the fear and stress out of handling special needs planning and instead serve as a fun and informative way to empower you as a parent or caretaker.

In this presentation, you'll discover:

- When & Whether to Become the Guardian of your Adult Child with Special Needs & what the Legal Process Entails. Your child's 18th birthday has great legal significance for your family- getting educated is imperative.
- The Steps You Must Take to Plan for the Future Care of Your Child with Special Needs the Right Way.
- How to Build a Proverbial Fortress of Protection around Your Child that Will Last a Lifetime.
- What a Special Needs Trust is & How it Protects Your Child's Eligibility for Essential Governmental Benefits.
- How to Take Charge of your Child's future & How to Plan for and Secure Government Benefits for Your Child.
- How to Ensure Your Kids (& Spouse) Are Prepared For Life Without You In Case Something Happens To You.

During this informative presentation you will learn what you need to know to have the peace of mind that no matter what happens, you've taken the right legal measures to ensure your child's future will be secure and that your child will be loved & well-cared for.

Committed to your lifelong legal care.
